

FOX RETURNS

If you are not 100% satisfied, you can return your order for a full refund within 28 days from the date you have received the order. Items must be unused and unwashed and in the original packaging with all original tags attached and, if applicable, protective inner lining intact on swimwear and intimate apparel. The return of FOX products is your responsibility and it will be at your own cost and expense.

Once your return is received and inspected by Fox's Returns Department, your refund will be processed and automatically applied to your credit card or original payment method.

Please contact our Customer Service immediately in case you have received an incomplete, wrong or damaged order. The return will be then organized by the company.
